Your Coins

It is crucial to have a control over your tokens. The Startions tokens are platform independent which means you can access it through any 3rd party wallet or move them anywhere you want using the private key access that you need to insert while creating an account.

When you buy the STRNS in the ICO, the coins will be then transferred directly to your own ERC-20 compatible wallet that you inserted while creating an account when the ICO ends.

Create a custom token on your ERC-20 compatible wallet and the STRNS will appear right away once transferred.

You can find a list of all ERC20 compatible wallets here:

Referral

The Startions referral program is available to the members of portal and uses affiliate tracking to record the initial sources of contributions. There is a $1000 limit for referred contributions.

Influencers can promote our ICO by using the promotional material such as banner, videos or text links on their websites, in email lists, in Telegram, Slack groups, or in any other 3rd party web property.

Feel free to discuss the plan with us prior to performing any action.

The Process Is Very Simple:

- Generate a referral link.
- Convince users to register with your generated link.
- If they pass the whitelist and successfully pays for an ICO, you will receive a 10% of the amount paid by the user.

Staking

The process is simple enough to understand based on first come first served. The token holders will have an advantage to buy the coins at cheapest possible rates among the different rounds and hold for the right time, once the price reaches an expectation, sell it for the expected amount.

We prefer our token holders to keep their tokens into a secure ERC-20 compatible wallet and keep the private key as safe as possible. Users can even stake their coins in our internal exchange platform when released.

Note: Staking is totally based on a risk factor and patience level.

Trading

Our first intention is to get listed on the famous exchanges. We'll be using the funds and the resources to get the internal exchange up and running after an ICO ends.

During the period time, users can keep their funds secure under an ERC20 compatible wallet like MyEtherWallet.

With our Internal Exchange System, users will be able to swap their tokens with the different cryptocurrencies or even buy STRNS with the most famous cryptocurrencies available in the market.

We are developing a fee free structure which means no transaction charges would be applied to the Token Holders.

Trading Community

That's where our trading team comes in. Startions is planning to make an investor only private channel where we will announce our trading strategies.

We have learned our ways and managed to figure out some very profitable strategies and will share these strategies with anyone who invests in Startions.

You will get updates about which coin or token to trade at least twice a week. That means we are capable of influencing prices of the coins we choose. This trading group will be available for Startions investors only.

Goal: We aim for a minimum of 30% profit upon the arrival of our new update. Suggestions? Mail us at trading@startions.com

Who Are We?

We are the team of developers and blockchain-enthusiasts with work experience of more than 4 years.

Smart contracts concept itself represents minimization of human resources involvement what we are trying to prove in practice. Trust the code and real numbers, not authors' authority or advertisement.

We are sure that Satoshi Nakamoto's anonymity didn't prevent, but helped Bitcoin's spread.

In the country of developers team the legal status of cryptocurrency is still questionable and lending programs cannot operate outside the allowed zone. In this regard we are not planning to reveal the personal data of the project founders and testers in the nearest time. However, after settling all the legal issues we don't exclude the probability of public promotion of the project on our behalf.
